

LEMAY-YATES ASSOCIATES INC. wins competitive tender for telecom consulting services to the Yukon Government

June 1, 2012 – LYA is pleased to have won a contract to provide consulting services to the Yukon Government. The project is focused on developing recommendations for the Yukon Government in terms of its role in future telecom industry service and infrastructure development in Canada's Yukon Territory. The project is assessing current network performance and the potential role of Government in developments, both of which are key to defining the future agenda for telecom and the digital economy in the Yukon. LYA is pleased to have completed projects for clients in all three of Canada's northern Territories, including an assessment of the state of telecom competition and infrastructure in Yukon in 2003.
